Highlights

- Triodos Future Generations Fund generated a return (after costs) of -2.92%, while the benchmark yielded -6.80%.
- Global equity markets had a weak month as investors struggled to make sense of the direction of US policy. This uncertainty mainly hit growth stocks, while defensive and value stocks performed better. As a result, sectors such as Consumer Staples and Energy performed better versus Information Technology and Communication Services. Small and mid-caps outperformed large caps.
- The Fund could not escape from the negative sentiment but performed comparatively well. Relative performance was driven by the Consumer Staples and Communication Services sector. Dutch food ingredients company Acomio had a strong finish to 2024 and Helios Towers did the same. The fund’s biggest exposures are the Health Care and Consumer Staples sectors.

Principal Adverse Impact Indicators (PAIs)

GHG intensity of investee companies: The GHG intensity is a relative measure of greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions. It is the amount of GHG produced per unit of revenue generated by the company, measured in tonnes of CO<sub>2</sub> per EURm generated in revenue. The carbon intensity is then weighted using the portfolio weight to get a weighted average for the portfolio. Non-recycled waste ratio: For each company the non-recycled waste ratio is the total amount in metric tons of non-recycled waste produced divided by the amount invested in EURm. This is expressed as a weighted average.

Excessive CEO pay ratio: This metric measures the ratio within investee companies of the annual total compensation for the highest compensated individual to the median annual total compensation for all employees.
