Triodos Groenfonds is a pioneer in financing the sustainable transition. The fund finances projects across the energy, food and resource transitions.

The fund is an SFDR article 9 fund, having sustainable investment as its objective. The product may be exposed to risks. Please refer to the prospectus and the PRIIPs KID for more detail. The tax treatment depends on the individual circumstances of each client and may be subject to change in the future.

Highlights

- The monthly return of the fund was -0.1% (YTD: -%).
- The fund's slight negative performance was primarily driven by unrealised foreign-exchange and valuation losses in both the equity and loan portfolios. Positive contributions from stable interest income as well as unrealised and realised gains on loans FX contracts partly offset these adverse movements.
- Scheduled debt repayments amounted to EUR 1.3 million. Further, the fund received EUR 0.4m in prepayments. This month, the fund disbursed EUR 0.1 million in one existing equity investment.
- Renewed geopolitical tensions in the Middle East reignited energy inflation risks across the Eurozone and the US. Eurozone headline inflation held firm near 2.9% - driven by energy cost spikes - prompting the ECB to raise its deposit rate by 25 bps to 2.50% in mid-September to anchor expectations. Meanwhile, the Federal Reserve under Chair Kevin Warsh held the federal funds rate at 3.50%–3.75%, though persistent price pressures led markets to price in up to two rate increases before year-end. Against this volatile macroeconomic backdrop, Triodos Groenfonds continues to seek out resilient investment opportunities in key transition sectors, including battery storage systems, biobased building materials, and sustainable housing projects.
