Highlights

- Triodos Impact Mixed Fund - Neutral generated a return (after costs) of -1.15%, while the benchmark yielded -1.54%.
- Both bond markets and global equity markets were hurt by rising inflation numbers and higher interest rates. The slowdown in Chinese economic growth, decreasing consumer purchasing power and aggressive monetary policy actions by Central Banks were the main worries. The fund outperformed its reference index. Equities were relatively strong, mostly because of a positive currency effect. The selection effect was negative. Bonds (slightly) outperformed the fixed income reference index.
- The fund has overweight positions in Communication Services and Consumer Staples and has no exposure to Energy, which was the best performing sector. Consumer Discretionary and Information Technology were the biggest contributors to the return. In Equities, the fund is overweight in Japan and Europe and underweight in the US both for valuation and sustainability & governance reasons. Bonds are all euro denominated.
